COURSE INFORMATION:

Our comprehensive Health and Social Care teaching course is designed to equip you with a diverse skill set vital for effectively instructing both KS4 and KS5 students, with a clear pathway toward assuming a leadership role within the subject in the future whilst enabling them to build upon their broad curriculum's from KS3.

Throughout this program, you will collaborate closely with subject experts who possess deep knowledge of their respective courses, affording you invaluable first-hand experience in both delivering Health and Social Care curriculum and contributing meaningfully to team-based teaching dynamics that will support your development as an aspiring educator.

In addition to immersive subject-specific sessions, tailored to hone your expertise in key areas of Health and Social Care instruction, you will be tasked with undertaking supplementary assignments aimed at reinforcing your understanding and application of the subject matter. You will have ample opportunities to translate theory into practice by delivering engaging lessons across a variety of topics and student demographics, fostering an environment of innovation, practicality, and active learning.

A core component of this course involves fostering a culture of continuous self-assessment and professional development. You will actively evaluate and refine your comprehension of Health and Social Care principles while critically analysing pedagogical approaches within your placement schools. By observing seasoned educators in action, you will gain insights into effective classroom practices and strategies for driving progress across the curriculum. Furthermore, you will be empowered to develop and implement tailored teaching methodologies aimed at effectively engaging and motivating learners, ensuring a dynamic and enriching educational experience for all.

The school placements will be split between a secondary school placement where you will gain Key Stage 4 experience and a Sixth Form College placement where you will experience Key Stage 5. During each placement an experienced and expert Health and Social Care teacher will support and guide you on your journey to becoming a fully qualified teacher.

BENEFITS:

Embark on a transformative journey with our school-based training program, immersing yourself in the dynamic atmosphere of educational institutions from day one. Benefit from direct exposure to seasoned educators and mentors, leveraging their wealth of experience and expertise to enrich your own teaching repertoire. By seamlessly integrating your theoretical knowledge with real-world classroom dynamics, you will cultivate a deep understanding of effective instructional practices while actively contributing to the academic success of your students.

School-based training means that you are immediately immersed in a school environment where you are learning from experienced mentors, while using and applying your knowledge and understanding of classroom learning through Teaching Practices.
